About the Program:

HFA's 2007 teleconference will explore the most current theoretical perspectives on loss and grief as experienced by persons throughout a life-limiting illness and by survivors after the death. The panel will focus on areas where understanding of grief have been challenged. The program will be useful to a range of professionals who provide bereavement counseling or work with the bereaved. This teleconference is ideal for psychologists, counselors, clergy, social workers, nurses and other health care workers, funeral directors, educators, teachers and school-based personnel. The information will also be helpful to individuals who offer education on loss, grief, dying or death.

Fee: There is a $50 non-refundable material fee, per site. This provides one set of materials, additional sets may be ordered for $10:00 a set. For more program information, visit the Hospice Foundation of America website :
